AUTOISTS TOUR NEW HAMPSHIRE MOUNTS

Two Hundred and Fifty Enthusiasts Will Leave Buffalo Tomorrow Morning.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Buffalo, N. Y., July 11.—This was a day of rush and bustle for the 250 or more enthusiastic automobilists who will take part in the Glidden tour to the New Hampshire mountains, which will be started at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning from this city. This was the last day to see that the three-score machines were in shape and to arrange for the checking of baggage with the two motor trucks that are to accompany the tourists. All the entrants have been supplied with numbers for their cars and badges for themselves, guests and chauffeurs.

The objective point of the tour is Bretton Woods, N. H., and the total distance to be covered exceeds 1,100 miles. The itinerary takes in the chief cities of central and northern New York state, and thence to Lake Champlain and up into Canada, where Montreal, Quebec, and other points will be visited. From Quebec to Bretton Woods the route extends through one of the most picturesque sections of Maine.

The tour is expected to prove one of the most difficult and exacting that has ever been held in America. The Glidden. It is the most valuable test and in point of experience the famous run from New York to Buffalo, which was never completed, and the later equally famous run to Pittsburgh. In point of mileage and of time consumed the tour will also be a record-breaker. Each man and machine will be forced to travel strictly according to schedule, which means that consistent work will be required.

The car making the best showing on the tour will receive the $2,000 perpetual trophy presented by Charles Glidden. It is the most valuable and artistic trophy ever presented for an automobile tour. In addition to the Glidden trophy, special prizes will be awarded for hill climbs, brake tests, control and similar events.

Formerly it has been the custom to ship the apples on the large freight ships, but the business has grown so as to support a line of steamers. It is expected that the exportation of the fruit will be greatly expedited by the new service, and that it will be marketed to better advantage abroad. The steamers will sail every fortnight, and will have a capacity of 20,000 barrels. The prospects for the crop this year indicates that it will be very large throughout the United States.

RIVAL FOR MERTON AIDS DAVIDSON-CONNOR CAUSE

Anti-Corporation And Corporation Fight In The Democratic Party Will Keep "Fair Minded" From Republican Primaries.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., July 11.—An important element was introduced into the Wisconsin political situation when Attorney J. A. Aylward of Madison announced his intention of entering the race for the democratic nomination for governor against Senator Ernest Merton of Waikesh. If Aylward runs against Merton it will mean additional assurance of the nomination of Governor James O. Davidson in the republican primaries. The Davidson followers are jubilant over the prospect of a contest in the democratic party for they declare that such a development will sever Speaker Lenroot from the La Follette democrats, whom the United States senators promised to swing into the republican primaries to vote for the speaker. La Follette has always had the support of a large number of anti-corporation democrats, sometimes called in this state "fair-minded" democrats, and through the support of these democrats he has been successful in most of his recent political battles. This democratic following of La Follette has been estimated as high as 50,000 to 75,000 voters. Since the adjournment of congress it became definitely known that Senator La Follette was determined to take the stump in favor of the nomination of Lenroot, La Follette's candidate for governor on a republican ticket, and the apprehensions of the Davidson Connor men have centered around the ability of the senator to rally a large number of democrats to the Lenroot slate in the republican primaries. It is believed that he would have been able to do this had the situation in the democratic party remained as it was a few days ago—no rival to Senator Merton for the democratic gubernatorial nomination—but the appearance of Aylward, a corporation attorney and lobbyist, as a rival to Merton, who was an anti-corporation member of the legislature, shakes the situation up completely. The democrats will be inclined to vote in their own primaries and Davidson, with his own strong personal following in the La Follette republican ranks, with the help of State Chairman Connor and of the stalwart republicans, is more formidable than at any time since interest in this turbulent state turned to gubernatorial politics.

JUDGE TARRANT FOUND AGAINST THE RAILROADS

State Is To Collect Large Sums Due As Result Of Improper Reports On Gross Earnings.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Milwaukee, Wis., July 11.—Judge Warren D. Tarrant has reached his decision in the back-tax cases brought by the state to recover from the railroad corporations the large sums of money which Governor La Follette claimed to be due as the result of false and incomplete reports of gross earnings filed by the railroads with the state for the purpose of calculation of taxes under the old license fee system. The cases were argued some nine months ago at Madison.

Judge Tarrant sitting in the circuit court for Judge E. Ray Stevens. Judge Tarrant withheld his decision until the supreme court had passed upon many of the vital points involved in it when the appeals on the decisions of the penalty and ad valorem cases were decided last month. On these points the supreme court held so that it was easy for the Milwaukee judge to find in favor of the state. The cases went to Judge Tarrant on a demurrer by the defendant companies, and he overrules this demurrer.

ton, Iowa, yesterday for the high ed at that place. Another car of work will be sent to Fort Atkinson today for the erection of the North-Western Depot in that city.

The big job in Port Lawrence, Ind., secured by this concern has been started upon, and when the order has been completed will run somewhere near twelve carloads. It consists of door and window frames for the offices and residences in the camp. They are also figuring on the mess-houses which are to be built at Fort Sheridan in the near future and have received some encouragement and expect to get the work. The barracks which will be built at the Fort at Des Moines this summer are also being figured upon.

fered them a site in South Beloit, but the question of moving is not decided.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue enue Yerkes Makes Ruling on Cigarette Advertising Matter.

Washington, D. C., July 9.—The question having been presented to him, Commissioner of Internal Revenue Yerkes has ruled that it is not illegal to attach coupons or other advertising matter to "dummy" cigarette packages which do not contain the stamp, caution notice, or factory brand. He has heretofore ruled that dummy cigar or cigarette boxes which have never contained a taxable product, and which have not affixed thereto the stamp or caution notice, and are not branded or marked in any way to show that some provision of the internal revenue law has been complied with respect to such boxes, do not come within the provisions of section 3397, of the Revised Statutes, defining what shall constitute statutory packages. Therefore, while they are objectionable, the Commissioner says his office lacks the legal authority to prohibit their use. It being conceded, therefore, that these dummy packages, in the condition described, do not come within the notice of the internal revenue laws, the Commissioner holds that the attaching of coupons or other advertising matter to such packages, whether of such a character as is authorized by the law or regulations or not, would not be illegal or subject to interference by revenue officers, except that they would have the right to examine all such packages in order to satisfy themselves that they do not contain contraband taxable tobacco products. However, the use of dummy boxes or cartons for cigars or cigarettes which have on them the caution notice, or any of the marks or brands required by law to be placed on statutory packages, is prohibited by section 3455, of the Revised Statutes.

MRS. CHARLES ADAMS WAS ON PROGRAM THREE TIMES

Former Janesville Lady Sang for National Association of Music Teachers at Oberlin.

The National Association of Music Teachers held their twenty-eighth annual meeting at Oberlin, Ohio, during the last week in June and recital programs were given by artists from New York, Cleveland and Chicago. Of special interest to Janesville is the fact that on the concert program of modern music given by the faculty of the conservatory Mrs. Charles Adams, formerly Miss Margaret Jones of this city, appeared three times.
Mrs. Adams is the daughter of Mrs.
J. H. Jones, long known as the director of music at the School for the Blind, and is the possessor of a beautiful mezzo-soprano voice.

liam H. Tatt the State Bar association has so altered its program that he will deliver his address at Philadel at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon instead of at 9 o'clock in the forenoon.

TORTURE OF MIDDLE

AGES FOR POOR CARP

Young Men Alleged To Have Tied Them To Boards And Boxes And Put Them Back In River.

Despised and hated as the carp is,
champions for their humane death have appeared in the city since attention has been called to the sport of a coterie of boys and young men.
Everybody who enjoys himself with hook and line would like to see the water scavenger driven from Rock river, but many object to having the poor, maligned "beasts" tortured. To catch them for the sport has long been a pastime for many in Janesville, but the latest stunt has been to tie two together and place them back in the water. In one case a large pasteboard box was securely fastened to a specimen of average size, and in another two of the same dimensions were hitched double to a fence-board.

occupy the pulpit in the First Battist church there Sunday.

ERNEST ALLEN IN
PALMER HOSPITAL

Was Hurt A Few Days Ago While Working For American Express
Co.—Operated Upon Today.

While working for the American Express company a few days ago, Ernest Allen was injured and this morning suffered a hemorrhage that compelled an operation. The breaking out of the wound made it necessary to send a hurry-up call for Russell's ambulance and the young man was taken immediately to the Palmer hospital, where Dr. F. B. Farnsworth cared for him. Mr. Allen has many friends who hope for his speedy recovery. He is known to many in the city, having played right field with the Eagle baseball team.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

Ben Hur Initiation. Forty candidates will be initiated into the mysteries of the Ben Hur order at East Side Odd Fellows' hall tomorrow evening. Special Agent Cannon will be here to conduct the work and a large attendance is expected.

To Raise Sheep in Dakota. Charles Staller of this city departed last evening for Doland, South Dakota, where he expects to engage in the sheep-raising business on a large scale. His family will follow him at a later date.
Mr. Staller has been a Janesville resident for many years and his departure is regretted by hosts of friends.

Repairing Car No. 6. Street car
No. 6 is being overhauled and repaired at the barns and will be in running order again by Chautauqua week. No. 10 has had new seats installed and a coat of varnish applied to the interior and is again in commission.

Jumped From Interurban. As the northbound interurban car loaded with passengers returning from the Congregational church picnic at Rockford, was passing his home on Mc-Key boulevard last evening, a fourteen-year-old boy by the name of Peters tried to jump from the platform and pitched headlong to the ground.
A deep gash was cut in his head and severe bruises were sustained. Dr.
Buckmaster dressed the injuries.

Thirty-two Work in Beloit. Thirty-two local machinists journeyed to Beloit in the early morning and back to Janesville at night each day. They are employed in the Berlin and Fairbanks-Morse plants. Bents are said to be lower in the Bower City than they are in Beloit, so much so that after the 42 cents round-trip charge on the interurban is deducted from their wages the men are still gainers.
Twelve local bricklayers also have steady employment in the Line City.

Chirp of the Cricket.

The chirping of crickets on a hot summer night falls into a rhythmic beat and this beat is a very accurate thermometer. In the latitude of Boston, according to Oving, the cricket chirp about 50 times a minute when the temperature is at 50 degrees. They add four chirps a minute for every de-

Literary Coincidence.

A curious resemblance has been found in Cardinal Newman's line, "The night is dark, and I am far from home," with a line in a play printed in 1599. This play is "Two Angry Women of Abington," by Henry Porter, and the original line runs, "This late and dark, and I am far from home."

WARNING TO THE PACKERS

Secretary Wilson Demands Reasonable Diligence in Effecting Reforms at Stockyards.

Chicago, July 11.—A new warning for the packers was given by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson Tuesday.
"So long as the packers make strenuous progress toward bringing their plants up to the government standard as regards sanitation there will be no quarrel, and they will be given plenty of time to make the changes, but if my inspectors find after awhile that they are letting up on the work of improvement, why—they will hear about it, that's all!"

In these words Secretary Wilson summed up the situation following his conference with the heads of the packing houses and his trip of inspection through four of the stock yards plants Monday.

"When I told them what the government expects," said the secretary, they eagerly asserted their willingness to comply in every particular, and I think they meant it. On my tour of cursory inspection I found that earnest efforts are being made to alter the unsatisfactory conditions. I looked especially at the parts of the plants where the offensive toilet rooms were situated. Those are being made right."

Ladrona Leader Surrenders.

Manila, July 11.—Montalón, the Ladrona leader, surrendered to Col.
Bainbridge, assistant chief of constabulary, at Talisay, July 8 and was removed to Cavite for trial. The capture of Montalón leaves one more Ladrona leader at large in Luzon.
Chief of Constabulary General Allen has announced that all outlaws must stand trial. The government has been criticized for not hastening their trials.

Sent Up For Vagrancy.—Perry Griffin was brought before Justice Hudson yesterday afternoon on the charge of vagrancy. The Justice told him that if he sent him up for only a short time he should have to do it the oftener and he should therefore give him the entire length of the halter. He accordingly sentenced him to three months in the county jail—the limit of the law. Patsey is a bad egg, a very bad egg—in fact, a perfect stench in the nostrils of the community. We hope the authorities will keep him; and other scallywags of the kind from running at large on the streets.

Good for Jefferson County.—By a gentleman who was at Jefferson yesterday we learn that the Board of Supervisors of Jefferson County have voted a thousand dollars toward a survey of Rock River. Dodge county was waiting to see what Jefferson would do in the matter. The action of the Supervisors of Fond du Lac county has not yet been ascertained. No thousand dollars expended by the several counties along the line of this river will ever yield so rich a return as this, if it conduces to this great improvement.

the northern part of the continent take 30 per cent from this country—appears to be chiefly due to superior transportation and business facilities offered by the markets of Europe as compared with those offered by the United States. Practically all of the commerce leaving or entering the South American countries is necessarily carried by steamers or sailing vessels. Most of that of the countries whose ports are exclusively upon the western coast passes to the south around Cape Horn, except in the case of Ecuador, in which the proximity of American ports at the north diverts a larger share of the trade in that direction. As a result, the bulk of the commerce of the western coast and that of most of the eastern coast must pass the easterly point of South America on its way to or from Europe or America.

When it reaches this point, Pernambuco, it is practically as near to the ports of western Europe as to New York or Boston in the United States; and as the number of steamships offered for transportation of such merchandise is very much greater from Europe to South America than from the United States to South America, the trade naturally follows the line offering the greatest transportation facilities. True, the bulk of the exports from Brazil is sent to the United States, and a considerable quantity of merchandise from Argentina, but the vessels which carry that merchandise, on arriving at New York or Boston, find no difficulty in obtaining full and ready cargoes for European ports; and therefore proceed to reload and clear for European ports, where they in turn obtain cargoes of manufactures and miscellaneous merchandise for South America, returning thereon to the eastern side of the triangle thus described.

As a consequence, the number of vessels by which South America may obtain merchandise direct from the United States is small, and the number by which it may obtain merchandise direct from Europe is very large and constantly increasing. In addition to this, the general trade machinery of most of the South American countries is in the hands of Europeans, who form the principal mercantile class; at least in the matter of wholesaling; and this is also true of the banking facilities and other important elements of commerce, while Americans engaged in commerce, banking, or transportation are reported to be extremely few. At the north of South America conditions differ as to transportation, the number of steamship lines plying between American ports and those of northern South America being fairly satisfactory, and the number of Americans engaged in business with that section greater than in that farther at the south.

BRAZILIAN TRADE.

Trade of the United States with Brazil aggregates 116 million dollars a larger sum than with any other country of South America, and is only exceeded by our trade with the United Kingdom, Germany, France, Canada, and Cuba. Brazil stands third in rank among the countries from which our imports are drawn, on the export side of our statement, however. Brazil stands twentieth among the countries to which American merchandise is sent. The United States uses in manufacturing industries practically one-half of the crude India rubber produced in the world, and her people consume more than one-half of the coffee grown. As Brazil is the world's largest producer of India rubber and coffee, her sales to the United States are large, but as her principal ports lie upon the beaten track of vessels engaged in trade between Europe and South America, and as her merchants and consumers are of European origin and closely identified with European business interests and customs, she draws most of her imports from Europe.

The total value of Brazil's imports in 1904 was 130 million dollars, while the exports of the United States to Brazil in that year were less than 11 million dollars; her total exports in 1904 were 192 million dollars and our imports were 95 million dollars, so that we take about one-half of her exports while we supply but a small share of her imports. Our imports from Brazil are far larger than those from any other South American country, having been in the fiscal year 1905, according to the reports issued by the Department of Commerce and Labor through its Bureau of Statistics, $99,843,084, against $15,354,961 from Argentina, and $11,071,513 from Chile. Indeed, merchandise from Brazil formed in 1905 practically two-thirds of the imports from all South America. On the other hand, the exports to Brazil were in 1905 but $10,985,086, against $23,564,066 to Argentina, and formed less than one-fifth of our total exports to South America.

PRESS COMMENT.

Calculated to Melt Thaw.
La Crosse Tribune: With Ella Wheeler Wilcox bubbling verses about him, Thaw should melt and run through the bars.

Cuts Him Off Either Way.
Chicago News: "Dowie" doesn't know yet whether he has any money, to will away or not, but he is having some fun cutting off his son without a cent.

Jim Doesn't Make Enough Noise.
La Crosse Tribune: Governor Davidson has been in our midst for three days, but has not made the noise usual to a political candidate for so high an office.

Big Price For Poor Specimen.
Milwaukee Free Press: Mrs. Stanford White gets nearly $200,000 insurance on the life of her husband, which is a good big price to get for that kind of a man.

Luxury For "The Commoner."
Exchange: Does Mr. Bryan expect the common people to continue to toss aloft their $1.93 hats for him if he puts in his time in London hobnobbing with lords and riding in automobiles?

Holds Afloat With Difficulty.
Milwaukee Sentinel: Perhaps Mr. Cleveland's indisposition was caused by the great amount of will power he had to exert to keep himself from climbing upon the Bryan band wagon.

Differing Standards of Decency.
Racine Journal: It all depends how people construe decency on the stage, but a New York judge decides the Bernard Shaw latest play is not indecent, though the police said it was.

No Attempt to Extradite J. P.
Chicago Inter Ocean: This far no attempt has been made to extradite Mr. Rockefeller, which leaves the inference that the state of Ohio expects him to come back and give himself up voluntarily.

President May Edit It.
Exchange: It is said that the president is going to edit Secretary Taft's next speech. Possibly the ample permit at the head of the war department will soon know how Poutney Bigelow felt when he was edited off the map.

May Be Simpler: Sounds Worse.
Superior Telegram: According to a Paris surgeon, many cases diagnosed as appendicitis turn out to be only mummification or scabulous typhoid colitis. The latter may be the simpler disease, but it sounds as if it ought to cost more.

After the Berry Season—What?
Fond du Lac Reporter: Only those with strong stomachs are eating the packers' products nowadays, and when Chemist Wyle gets in his work under the pure food bill there will be nothing left but starvation for the balance of us, after the vegetables and black berry season is over.

Welded Together by Scare.
La Crosse Leader-Press: At any rate, it hasn't done the republican party any harm to have the Bryan scare thrown into it just at this time. It may be worth several seats in the next congress to have it understood right now that the American people are interested in politics this year on their own behalf.

Forty-one Story Scaper.
Exchange: A forty-one story building, which will have a height of 625 feet, is to be erected by a sewing machine company at the corner of Broadway and Liberty street, New York. Now, in order to give it a proper artistic effect, somebody should get the adjoining lot and build thereon a one-story bank with Ionic columns.

Little Sermon to Emperor William.
Chicago Record-Herald: If it is true that Emperor William will use his influence to have all German insurance companies pay their San Francisco losses in full, the aid he thus renders will be far greater than any that might have resulted from the subscription he was not permitted to make immediately after the earthquake and fire.

Goal Reached: He Goes to Seed.
Exchange: When a man arrives at the goal of a signed column he usually goes to seed and his progress toward second childhood is marked by increasing egotism. Instances with our number could be given of men who deteriorated after success, removed the spur of inspiration. Bill Nye, Kipling, George Ade, Mr. Dooley, and William E. Curtis are recent illustrations. All became stale when fortune smiled on them.

Henry C. Adams.
Madison Journal: As a campaigner he had few equals and had a remarkable faculty of making a clear presentation of issues. He was in particular demand as a speaker for country audiences, because of this faculty and his experience and knowledge of subjects close to the farmers. As dairy and food commissioner of Wisconsin for two terms he served with signal ability and attracted wide attention. As his distinguished father before him, he was a pioneer in promoting advanced methods of agriculture, horticulture, and dairying in Wisconsin. Though early shattered in health, his clear and vigorous mind and strong will made possible a life of much and high achievement.

The Puff-Blow Subject Thereof.
New York Tribune: An Indian Territory editor says: "It is more fun to see a man read a puff on himself in a newspaper than to see a fat man slip on a banana peel." The narrow minded man reads it over seven or eight times and then goes around and begs all the copies he can. The kind hearted goes home and reads it to his wife and then goes around to the office and pays what he owes. The successful business man who advertises regularly and makes money by it immediately starts out to find the editor, and then the two walk gently down the street and the business man takes sugar in his hand and they both eat a clove or two and life is sweeter, and peace settles down on their lives for a moment. Such is the experience of a mustard seed that falls on infertile ground.

Abolition of the Lockstep.
Superior Telegram: The report that the 1,200 prisoners at the Joliet penitentiary have shown an improvement in conduct since the lockstep was abolished may readily be believed.

The lockstep is a relic of barbarism and it was especially designed to bring about the humiliation and degradation of prisoners which modern penology seeks to avoid.

It was adopted at a time when the ways and means of guarding prisoners were primitive and the practice of making men march close together in single file served to lessen the opportunities for mutinous outbreaks. In the modern penitentiary this ancient expedient is as useless as the ball and chain, and its chief effect is to expose the prisoners to a humiliation that lessens their self-respect and manhood—the very qualities which modern punishment is designed to develop.

The elimination of the lockstep, like the abolition of the compulsory wearing of stripes as a prison garb, is a move toward the better system of the treatment which practically all qualified students of penal methods now approve.

The tendency today in penal methods is from the crude and severe to the enlightened and humane.

Case of Chairman Thomas Taggart.
La Crosse Leader-Press: What was regarded as mere campaign talk regarding Chairman Taggart of the democratic national committee two years ago, regarding his alleged operation of gambling houses at French Lick, Ind., seems after all to have been largely true. The state is preparing to close upon him; Mr. Taggart is threatened with civil and criminal suits and from all parts of the country the demand is coming up that he resign his official position. The chairman has indeed a sort of defense, but it is a weak one. He declares that there is no gambling allowed by the state of which he is manager, that the casinos, annexes of the hotel buildings, have been rented to other corporations and are beyond his control, that when he heard the charges that gambling was permitted in the casinos he immediately brought suits, which are now pending, for the cancellation of the leases under which they are held.

But the attorney general of Indiana has at one blow knocked out all the props of the Taggart defense. He is of the opinion that the lease of the casinos was merely a ruse to conceal the identity of the gambling companies, and he does not take the suits for cancellation seriously, while Governor Hanly says: "The hotel safe has been used for keeping money earned by the casino. The casino building itself did not cost more than $10,000. What legitimate purpose could justify the payment of $50,000 annually by the operator of the casino for the concessions?"

It is also known that the gambling at Taggart's hotels at French Lick has been going on for years. It is scarcely possible that a man of Taggart's cleverness would not know it, if in fact now pretty generally believed that he is the chief beneficiary of it, and that he is merely trying to evade the responsibility. He is to say the least not a creditable figure to head the democratic national organization.

HE WAS LOCKED UP AT HIS OWN REQUEST

Youthful Steeplejack Who Had Been Out for a Time at Dubuque Paired Night in Torture.

All through the weary night a voluntary prisoner at the city lock-up fought with mental hallucinations and a fleshly craving for drink, and during the early morning he begged pitifully for whiskey. But Officer Chapman, reminding him that he had asked for protection against himself, refused to heed his entreaties. Round and round the cage of cells the stranger walked, stopping only at brief intervals to rest his trembling limbs, and as the day wore on, to noon he became more quiet, and the terrible appetite was in a measure subdued. The drink victim is a young man of engaging countenance, about 25 years of age. He has been following the vocation of a steeplejack for seven years and three years ago fell seventy-one feet from a smokestack in La Crosse and crippled his right foot and one of his wrists. He drifted into Janesville from Dubuque after a long revel with a party of kindred spirits. Last night he came to the station, told the officers that he feared that the delirium was about to seize him, and asked to be confined. He refused to disclose his identity, but harked back to a time when he was wont to stop at the best hotels in Janesville and wear a good-sized sparker in his shirt-bosom. When he shall have regained control of himself he intends to start on foot for North Fond du Lac, where relatives reside.

COMMENCE BUILDING WITHIN NEXT MONTH

New Hitching Stable on East Side to Be Erected Immediately.

Within the next thirty days the work of removing the buildings from the lots on North Bluff and North First streets, which are to be occupied by the new hitching stable, will be commenced. The work of constructing the barn is to follow immediately. The plans are now being drawn and the cost is to be about $12,000. Articles of incorporation with a capital stock of $10,000, have been filed with the following signers, Charles W. Kemmerer, Francis L. Grant and J. M. Bostwick. Five thousand dollars of the stock was raised among local business men.

Mrs. David N. Walrath.
All that is mortal of the late Mrs. David N. Walrath was tenderly laid at rest in Edgerton this afternoon. The funeral services were held in Janesville at the home, 5 Fifth avenue, at one o'clock, Rev. J. H. Tippet officiating. The pallbearers were J. L. Bear, B. F. Moore, Henry Rogers, Michael Rabyer, John G. Hayner and William Hodge.

SUE FORMER LIFE INSURANCE HEADS

ALLEGED VOUCHERS WERE NOT PROPERLY EXAMINED.

CARELESS IN PAYING BILLS

Effort to Recover Large Sum Disbursed to Defray Campaign Expenses of the Two Leading Political Parties.

New York, July 11.—Complaints were served Tuesday in the suits brought by the Mutual Life Insurance company against Robert S. Grannis, former vice president and trustee, and Walter R. Gillette, former treasurer and trustee of the company.

It is alleged against Mr. Grannis that he omitted to scrutinize vouchers which were submitted to him and negligently and carelessly approved many vouchers which represented money paid for services not authorized.

The damages suffered by the company because of these acts amounted, it is believed, to $200,000.

Campaign Contributions.

In another cause of action against Mr. Grannis it is charged that he participated in the making of payments out of the assets of the company aggregating the sum of $92,500 to defray the expenses of campaign contributions to political parties.

Altogether five causes of action against Mr. Grannis are set forth and the total amount for which judgment is asked against him is $917,500 with interest.

It is alleged that the former vice president participated in an arrangement by which money was taken out of the assets of the company to establish a so-called confidential fund which was expended for objects not within the corporate purposes of the company and beyond its lawful powers.

No Entries on Books.

The complaint against Mr. Gillette alleges that he received from time to time large sums of money as to which no entries appear in the books of account or other records of the company that he made expenditures out of these moneys, the items of which are for the most part unknown to the plaintiff; that he paid over about $8,000 alleged to be the balance remaining in his hands; and that he never submitted an account as to the expenditures made by him.

Suit May Involve Millions.

Suit for the recovery of large sums of money which were paid to his stationery firm through alleged erroneous vouchers was begun against Lyndner W. Lawrence by the Mutual Life Insurance company. It is believed that this suit may involve over $1,000,000.

Before the Armstrong committee began its work Mr. Lawrence, who is an old and feeble man, went to his country home in Connecticut, and it was impossible to get him before that body. Later he went to Hot Springs and it is believed is still out of the jurisdiction of this state.

This Proposition Is Now Up

Can we longer afford to overlook the fact that we can secure the very best of dental service at about half the rates we have been paying? Dr. Richards, of Janesville, the independent dentist, says he would be delighted to have his work (put out at a modest price) compared with work done by others at possibly double his prices. He affirms that the comparison will establish the fact that:

His work is good in every respect.
His work is lasting.
His work is done thoroughly.
His work is substantial, and, in fact, not excelled by that of any other local dentist.

In addition to the reasonableness of his prices, he gives close attention to painless work. Now see what you get by having him do your dental work.

MOTHER SEEKING A STOLEN CHILD

MRS. ED. FAWCETT COMES TO JANESVILLE FOR NEWS.

FATHER TOOK THE BOY

Baby Was Two Years of Age—Mother Is Heartbroken—Fawcett Is Missing.

One of the sad tragedies of modern life is being enacted in the life of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fawcett, formerly of this city, but now of Milwaukee. Separated because of domestic troubles, the father has stolen the little baby boy and disappeared into regions unknown, leaving a heartbroken wife and mother making a vain search for the missing one the whole country over.

Comes to Janesville.

Mrs. Edward Fawcett arrived in Janesville yesterday noon and after spending several hours in vain search for her missing husband and child, departed for Plattville, his old home, to continue her search. The story is as follows: Three years ago Mrs. Fawcett was a dressmaker employed by Mrs. Warner in this city. Her future husband, Edward Fawcett, was a barber in William Hough's shop. They met and were married after a short courtship.

Move to Milwaukee.

After the baby was born, two years ago this coming October, Mr. and Mrs. Fawcett moved to Milwaukee. Mrs. Fawcett's old home, her husband buying the barber shop in the Chamber of Commerce. Domestic troubles arose and last winter Mrs. Fawcett left her husband, took her baby to her mother, Mrs. Hornman, on Kinzieville avenue, and started to earn her own and her baby's living at dressmaking. Once a week the father was permitted to see the baby and a week ago Monday took the little fellow out for a ride around the block. He never returned. Since then all trace of him or the child, little Lester, has been lost.

Searches Everywhere.

The distressed mother began her search immediately. The police were called to her aid in vain. Milwaukee and all the neighboring towns were searched thoroughly. Telephone and telegraph messages were sent everywhere in vain hope of intercepting the father and child. In his boyhood days Fawcett lived at Plattville. His father was ex-Sheriff John Fawcett, a man known from one end of Grant county to the other, and in the forlorn hope he had taken the child to Plattville the poor weary mother last evening started for that city.

Sister Knows.

It is thought that a sister of Fawcett in Milwaukee knows his whereabouts as she went to the shop where he was employed a day after his disappearance and secured his tools, but she refuses to aid the agonized mother searching for her baby boy. "It is thought that Fawcett may have gone to Winnipeg, where he has a brother living. Friends of Mrs. Fawcett in Janesville are offering her any aid possible in her bereavement and it is possible that the missing child may be found."

MAKING THE MOST OF BRIGHT, SUNNY DAYS

Picnics and Luncheons and Card Parties Are Occupying People on Pleasure Bent.

Five special cars on the Interurban carried the 300 merry-makers of the Congregational church to Rockford's pleasure ground, Harlem Park, yesterday. J. A. Craig had general supervision of the arrangements and the day's plans were carried through without hitch or mishap. The new ferry conveyed the party across the river and under the direction of H. J. Cunningham and Rev. R. C. Denison, willing hands soon had a dozen long tables in readiness for the old-fashioned picnic dinner which the ladies had arranged. There were races and other athletic contests for both boys and girls in the afternoon and in addition to the concert by the Rockford military band an entertainment was given for the picnicers in the vaudeville theatre. Departure for home was taken at five o'clock.

The Baptist Sunday School picnic was held nearer home. Crystal Springs park was the scene of the gathering yesterday, the steamer Columbia and launches carrying the children and older people to the scene. Numerous exciting games made the day pass all too quickly. A delicious luncheon was served and the last of the happy company took their departure at nightfall.

Miss Amorette Wilton entertained a small company of young ladies at her home on Milwaukee avenue Monday afternoon in honor of Miss Jane Harper of Bellefonte, Pa., who is a guest of Miss Vera Wilcox.

Miss Mae Valentine expects to depart on a trip to the Yellowstone National park with a party of Chicago friends next week Thursday.

Nearly forty partook of the delicious club night supper served by the new management at the golf links last evening. A smaller number than usual remained for the dance, but a delightful time was enjoyed notwithstanding. Roy Carter's orchestra furnished the inspiration and Mr. Carter sang a number of pleasing selections during one of the intermissions.

Invitation have been issued for the wedding of John Paul Bennett and Miss Harriet Deland Rogers, which is to take place at the home of the bride-in-prospect on Wednesday, July 18. Saturday Miss Jessie L. London entertained at a luncheon given for Miss Rogers. The game of five hundred was played in the evening and the first prize was captured by Miss Jennie Cleland. During the progress of the festivities the guest of honor was presented with a handsome fern dish. Monday evening Mrs. A. W. Kneff entertained a young ladies euchre club in honor of her sister. At the card tables Miss Leonora Osford carried off the first prize. A tempting four-course luncheon was served.

Though formal announcement has not been made, the engagement of Dr. J. Lindsay and Miss Cora Bond of this city has been an open secret among intimate friends for some time. Miss Bond is an accomplished and popular young woman who has made Janesville her home since childhood. The groom-to-be is local agent for the Chicago & North Western Railroad Co., a keen and active business man, possessed of an engaging personality, which has made for him hundreds of warm friends during his comparatively brief sojourn in this city.

REV. R. C. DENISON LEFT THIS MORNING FOR SCOTTISH CITY

Will Sail From Philadelphia Saturday—Will Return in Latter Part of August.

Rev. R. C. Denison left this morning at seven o'clock for New York City enroute to Dundee, Scotland, where he is to supply in the First Congregational church for a month. His trip from Chicago on was over the Baltimore & Ohio and after a day's visit with his brother in New York City he will go to Philadelphia.

REV. ROBERT C. DENISON

From there he is to sail on Saturday for Liverpool, England, arriving in Dundee before July 22. Dr. Pittsforth of Milwaukee accompanied Mr. Denison.

During the absence of the Janesville divine the pulpit of the Congregational church is to be filled by Dr. James Blaisdell of Beloit college. Mr. Blaisdell is well known to Janesville church-goers, having supplied here during Mr. Denison's illness last winter.

It is expected that Mr. Denison will be back in Janesville during the latter part of August and will resume his duties here the first Sunday in September. Returning from across the seas he will sail from Liverpool on August 15 and arrive home about the twenty-eighth of the month.

This "vacation call" is a very high honor for the Janesville pastor, for he was chosen from among the hundreds of Congregational ministers in the United States. The Dundee church each summer secures an American to occupy the pulpit during the vacation of the regular pastor, paying all the expenses of the journey and providing pleasant outing for the favored minister. The city of Dundee has a population of 170,000.

BOX CAR VISITS A TOBACCO WAREHOUSE

Pushes Its Way Without Leave Into One of Rumrill's Buildings.

The North-Western carpenters are today busily engaged repairing the number 2 warehouse of Rumrill on Holmes street. Last evening the switch engine gave an empty car an extra hard shove and it uprooted a good-sized tree and went up a high embankment, about six feet high, and landed halfway through the warehouse. The north side of the building was completely wrecked and new timbers had to be put in from the ground floor to the roof. If it had not been for the tree, which stopped the force of the empty car, it would have undoubtedly gone clear through into the basement. The accident occurred last evening about six o'clock and this morning the wrecking crew were called to pull the car out of the building, down the embankment, and onto the track again. As it happened, none of the cases of tobacco stored in the structure were damaged and in a few days the building will be in good condition.

Wellman's Aerial Pole Hunt

The Intrepid Explorer's Third Attempt to Find the Earth's Axis

Plucky Journalist Who Will Sail into the Arctic Regions on the King of Airships Is a Typical American Who Does Things—Many Safety Appliances Provided For Most Remarkable and Sensational Journey of Modern Times

If the north pole does not want to be discovered it had better go in hiding. Walter Wellman is on its trail, and if he is as good at finding out polar secrets as he is good at finding out political secrets he will get it. Wellman has made a try at the thing twice before, but the other times he used a ship and therefore the pole could protect itself with icebergs. Now he is to take a balloon, and it will be "23-siddoo" for the bergs. It requires a "temperature" considerably colder than that of the arctic circle to freeze air, therefore the airship can defy the frost. The pole might as well turn state's evidence against itself, for it is bound to be found out. In a few years it will be only an American flag-pole. Old Glory will wave above it. It is a poor age for mysteries, even polar ones, for science is certain to uncover them.

It is not the first time the balloon trick has been tried on the pole, but the one previous attempt was made many years ago, before the modern improvements in airships. Andree was the one who conducted that experiment and, for all any one knows to the contrary, he reached his fabled destination, only he never came back to tell about it. He may have become attached to the place, as it were, so that he could not tear himself loose from the scenery. It is a rather gruesome subject, but there is no need of growing gloomy over something that cannot be helped.

Scenery Preserved on Ice.
The arctic scenery is said to be indescribably grand by the few who have looked upon it and have lived to tell the tale. It is a revel of color, of picturesque effects and of dazzling lights. It is scenery preserved on ice.
There have been many conflicting stories of Andree's end. There always are when nobody knows. One version had it that he was killed by Eskimo savages. This may be true, but most people have a suspicion that the climate had something to do with it. There is not much except climate around the north pole, and it manages to make itself very conspicuous and disagreeable.

But Andree was not an American newspaper man. That is the reason he did not come back to report the story. Wellman not only has the advantage of modern inventions, but also of Yankee pluck and journalistic training. If anybody overfunds the pole, it is safe to say that it will be an American reporter, for he is used not only to discovering things, but also to cold deals of every conceivable variety. The arctic regions will have no terrors for him.

King of Airships.
The balloon with which Wellman is to seek the pole is the king of airships, being the largest ever yet constructed. The gas bag, which is oblong in shape, is over 100 feet in length and above 60 feet in diameter. To keep this gigantic bag from losing its shape under the pressure of violent winds a balloonette is placed in the interior of it, into which will be constantly pumped several pressures of air. The basket, or chamber, attached to the outer bag is built on a steel frame, is protected from the weather and is fitted with rudders, propellers, motors and the necessary machinery for navigation of the air. In this basket Mr. Wellman and his companions will embark on the most remarkable and sensational journey of modern times.

David Kenney, an iron construction worker of Racine, 35 years old, fell from a hoisting crane at Chicago on Monday and sustained injuries from which he died.

by lightning, or have a tree fall on him even in the temperate zone.
If the balloon should tumble into the open sea, a metallic boat has been taken along, which Wellman calls his "float ticket."
Before the start is made the balloon is to be subjected to the most rigid tests. Trial voyages will be made, and if the apparatus is found in any way defective it will be remodeled or, if necessary, abandoned and a new balloon constructed. Some such contingency may delay the trip for a year. If the first effort to reach the pole is not successful, another trial will be made a year later, and if that fails still another attempt will result. To put it plainly, the north pole has got to come into the reservation of the known if American ingenuity, newspaper enterprise, and Wellman's perseverance can bring it there.

Wireless Telegraphy on Board.
One of the novelties of the Wellman expedition—and pretty much everything about it—is a novelty—is that wireless telegraphy will be used in order that the daily reports of the voyagers may be flashed back to civilization. One wireless station has been established at Spitzbergen, another about 600 miles south, and the third will be on the balloon itself. Instead of this being a pole high in the air, however, it will be a rope hanging from the basket of the ship. A wireless apparatus and operator will be carried with the expedition. Thus even if the melancholy fate of Andree should overtake the daring aeronauts the world will be enriched by an account of their observations. If the pole is discovered, we shall not have to wait months for the news to reach us, but it will be flashed all over the world on the very day it occurs. Great is science, and wireless telegraphy is its newest wonder.

If Walter Wellman reaches this goal, which has been the dream of ages, he will not be the first American newspaper man to have gained fame as a discoverer. Henry M. Stanley, the great African explorer, was a reporter on a New York newspaper at the time he found Livingstone.

Does Not Believe in Omens.
Wellman was born at Mentor, O., Nov. 3, 1858. The fact that he is a Buckeye is another sign that he will succeed. Besides, Mentor was the home of James A. Garfield, so that is a good place to have been born in. That is another auspicious omen. Wellman himself, by the way, does not believe in signs and omens, for he is going to start his expedition from the same island where Andree began his voyage to fame and death. The rest of us, however, may be excused for believing that a man who took his rise in Mentor, O., had a favorable point of setting out.

Mr. Wellman was educated in the district schools of Michigan. At the age of fourteen he launched a weekly newspaper at Sutton, Neb., and when twenty-one started the Cincinnati Post. He did notable work as a correspondent in the Blaine-Cleveland campaign of 1884. For over twenty years he has been one of the Washington representatives of the Chicago Record-Herald, which newspaper is financing his present undertaking.

The first voyage of discovery made by Wellman was in 1882, when on Watling Island, or San Salvador, in the Bahamas, he erected a monument on the spot where Christopher Columbus made his first landing 414 years ago. Two years later Mr. Wellman started his initial arctic voyage, reaching 81 degrees north. Subsequently he was the leader of an expedition to Franz Josef Land, reaching 82 degrees north and discovering a number of new islands. He has written extensively of the arctic regions and has lectured before learned bodies in Europe and America. In appearance he is of distinguished bearing, with the keen alert look of the modern representative of the press. His home is in Washington, where he has a family of five daughters. Altogether, he is not only the writer, but the typical American who does things.

In rendering credit to those who have assisted in making the present Wellman expedition possible, M. Santos Dumont, the celebrated French aeronaut, should not be overlooked. His advice in building the great dirigible balloon has been almost invaluable. The gas bag itself is made of two layers of cotton and one of silk. The car is suspended beneath this cigar shaped bag and is about six feet wide, six and a half feet high and fifty-two feet long. The engine room and living room, or cabin, are each about eleven and a half feet in length. In these little compartments will be enacted a new chapter in human history, for their inmates will go, either to death or to a goal sought by man for centuries.

If they succeed in reaching the pole the world will regard it as the greatest discovery since that made by Columbus. Grant that the finding of the earth's axis will be a thing of no utility, what then? Since when has man been only a utilitarian? Human beings are made up not alone of pocketbooks and stomachs, but of imaginations and hearts. The world's greatest deeds have been done for sentiment, their motives, crusades, revolutions and civil wars have been fought for sentiment. After all, the commercial motive is the least of those that rule us.
The finding of the north pole may add not one dollar to the wealth of the world, yet the discoverer will join the immortals.

Perhaps his name is Walter Wellman.

TOAST TO THE PRESIDENT

United States Envoy to Pan-American Congress Voices Interest of His Country in Welfare of the Island.

San Juan, Porto Rico, July 10.—Elihu Root, the American secretary of state, who arrived here Sunday on board the cruiser Charleston on his voyage to Rio Janeiro as the representative of the American government at the Pan-American congress, was entertained at luncheon Monday by George Cabot Ward, at the Union club. Others present included United States and insular officials, the military and naval authorities of Porto Rico and several Spanish merchants and bankers.

Auditor Hyde, of Porto Rico, proposed the toast to President Roosevelt. In responding Mr. Root recalled this solicitude and interest for Porto Rico during the first days of his administration as secretary of war while Porto Rico was yet under military government.

He said he fully appreciated the difficulties attending the island's adjustment to the new conditions resulting from its separation from Spain and the severance of relations between church and state.

Values Island Friendship.
The United States, Mr. Root said, was greatly interested in the welfare of the island and in holding its friendship and strongly desired for Porto Rico the utmost prosperity and happiness.

There exists, he continued, no citizen holding office, high or low, can truly represent his country who does not work zealously for the island's future.

Mr. Root avoided all reference to insular problems, such as the question of citizenship, the coffee-growing industry and the presence of troops on the island.

THE GREATEST OF ALL TONICS

The ingredients that enter into S. S. S. and the method of combining and preparing them so that they build up and strengthen every part of the body, make it the greatest of all tonics. S. S. S. is nature's remedy—PURELY VEGETABLE—and while it is restoring the lost appetite, overcoming that tired, run-down feeling, and other ailments common to Spring, which warn us that it is necessary to take a tonic, it is purifying the blood of all poisons and waste matters so that it can supply to the system the strength and nourishment it needs to keep it in perfect condition during the depressing summer months that are to follow.

Spring is the season when most every one needs a tonic. It is nature's time for renewing and changing, and as everything puts on new life, the sap rises in vegetation, the earth thaws out from its winter freezes, and all respond to Spring's call to purge and purify themselves; there is a great change also takes place in our bodies. The blood endeavors to throw off the poisons and accumulations which have formed in the system, and been absorbed by it, from the inactive winter life, and calls upon every member to assist in the elimination. The system is often unequal to the struggle; the appetite grows fickle, the energies give way, the spirits are depressed, and a general run-down condition is the result.

Then the body must have assistance—it must be strengthened and aided by a tonic, and S. S. S. is the ideal one. Being made entirely from roots, herbs and barks, it does not disagreeably affect the system in any way as do most of the so-called tonics on the market, which contain Potash or some other harmful mineral ingredient to derange the stomach and digestion, unfavorably affect the bowels, or otherwise damage the health. S. S. S. tones up the stomach and digestion and assists in the assimilation of food; it rids the system of that always-tired, worn-out feeling, and imparts vigor and tone to every part of the body. It re-establishes the healthy circulation of the blood, stimulates the sluggish organs, and calms the unstrung nerves which make one feel that he is on the verge of prostration. S. S. S. gives an appetite and relish for food that nothing else does, and by its use we can find ourselves with as hearty, hungry an appetite in Spring as at any other season.

It acts more promptly and gives better and more lasting results than any other remedy, and is absolutely safe because of its vegetable purity. Dyspeptic, irritable, nervous, debilitated people will find S. S. S. is just the medicine that is needed for the purification of the blood, which, from its diseased or impure condition, is causing their trouble, as well as for toning up and helping the entire system. When you take your tonic this Spring do not experiment; but get the best—the tonic with forty years of success behind it, and the one endorsed by the best people all over the country—S. S. S., THE GREATEST OF ALL TONICS. It is necessary at this time, when the system is depleted and weakened at every point, that the right remedy be used—one that is especially adapted to the condition, and S. S. S. has proved itself to be this remedy for many years. If it is taken at the first sign of Spring the system will be so built up and strengthened that the disagreeable affections of the season will not be felt as warmer weather comes on.

Regimental Reunions and Forty-third Anniversary, Battle of Chickamauga, Chattanooga, September 18-20, 1906.

On September 18, 1906, will occur the forty-third anniversary of the Battle of Chickamauga. It is proposed to celebrate this memorable event with a reunion of the various regiments that participated in this memorable battle and the various battles fought around Chattanooga. The reunion will be held at Chickamauga National Park, September 18, 19 and 20, and the present indications are that it will be the largest and most notable gathering ever held in the South. On the above dates, the remnants from the armies of twelve states, comprising the following: Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas and Kentucky, will assemble, many of the first and last time since they marched from their blood-stained fields, forty-three years ago.

Here is one of the greatest opportunities for the education of the youth. Don't fail to take your children and show them historic Chattanooga, with all its historical connections. It is the opportunity of a lifetime. Go and see the old war generals and other officers point out the places of interest on the battlefield; let them show you and explain in person, the markers erected on the battlefield showing the positions of the opposing armies at the time of battle. It will not be long until none will be left to do this noble work. It will be many years, if ever again, that such an opportunity will present itself. See that your tickets read via the Louisville & Nashville R. R., the Battledale Route. Call on your nearest railroad agent for rates and advertising matter pertaining to the reunion or write nearest representative of the Louisville & Nashville R. R.

OHIO MINERS GO ON STRIKE

Difference of Fraction of Cent Per Ton in Pay Leads to Cessation of Work by Men.

Athens, O., July 11.—Ten thousand miners in the Hocking district struck again Tuesday, after working less than two weeks under the agreement made at Columbus in June.

The cause is that when loaders received their pay checks they found they were short 36-100 of one-cent per ton from the price which they were to receive under the Columbus agreement for cutters, loaders and day workers.

The matter was referred to the sub-district miners' officers, who will take the matter up with the operators. Mines in Hocking and Sunday Creek valleys will be idle until a settlement is made.

The Manager Of the B. & A.

By VAUGHAN KESTER

Copyright, 1901, by Harper & Brothers

CHAPTER III
OAKLEY drew down the top of his desk and left the office. Behind the door on which some predecessor had caused the words, "Department of Transportation and Maintenance, No. Admittance Except on Business," to be stenciled in black letters, he called to Mr. Oakley, who, with Dutch Pete, was still fussing over the wheezy switch engine.

"Will you want in the office for anything, Milt?"

The master mechanic, who had been swearing at a rusted nut, got up from his knees and, dangling a big wrench in one hand, bowed back. "No, I guess not."

After turning the key on the department of transportation and maintenance, Oakley crossed the tracks to the station and made briskly off uptown, with the wind and rain blowing in his face.

He lived at the American House, the best hotel the place could boast.

In Antioch Oakley was something of a figure. He was the first manager of the road to make the town his permanent headquarters, and the town was grateful. It would have swamped him with kindly attention, but he had studiously ignored all advances, preferring not to make friends. In this he had not entirely succeeded. The richest man in the county, Dr. Emory, who was a good deal of a patrician, had taken a fancy to him and had insisted upon entertaining him at a formal dinner. It was the most impressive function Oakley had ever attended, and even to think of it still sent the cold chills coursing down his spine.

That morning he had chanced to meet Dr. Emory on the street, and the doctor, who could always be trusted to say exactly what he thought, had taken him to task for not calling. There was a reason why Oakley had not done so, a comfortable fortune from his struggling country practice. "Constance soon decided that Oakley was not at all like the young men of Antioch as she recalled them, nor was he like the men she had known while under her aunt's tutelage—the leisurely idlers who drifted with the social tide, apparently without responsibility or care."

He proved hopelessly dense on those matters with which they had been perfectly familiar. It seemed to her that pleasure and accomplishment, as she understood them, had found no place in his life. The practical quality in his mind showed at every turn of the conversation. He appeared to hunger, after hard facts, and the harder these facts were the better he liked them. But he offended in more glaring ways. He was too intense, and his speech too careful and precise, as if he were uncertain as to his grammar, as, indeed, he was.

Poor Oakley was vaguely aware that he was not getting on, and the strain told. It slowly dawned upon him that he was not her sort, that where he was concerned she was quite alien, quite foreign, with interests he could not comprehend, but which gave him a rankling sense of inferiority.

He had been moderately well satisfied with himself, but, indeed, he had good reason to be, but his manner was calculated to rob him of undue pride. He was not accustomed to being treated with indifference and patronage. He asked himself resentfully how it happened that he had never before met such a girl. She fascinated him. The charm of her presence seemed to suddenly create and satisfy a love for the beautiful. With generous enthusiasm he set to work to be entertaining. Then a realization of the awful mental poverty in which he dwelt burst upon him for the first time. He longed for some light and graceful talent with which to bridge the wide gaps between the stubborn heights of his professional erudition.

He was profoundly versed on rates, grades, ballast, motive power, and rolling stock, but this solid information was of no avail. He could on occasion talk to a sweating section boss with a grievance and a brogue in a way to make that man his friend for life. He also possessed the happy gift of inspiring his subordinates with a zealous sense of duty, but his social responsibilities numbed his faculties and left him a bankrupt for words.

The others gave him no assistance. Mrs. Emory's smiling and good-natured, but silent, bent above her sewing. She was not an acute person, and the situation was lost upon her, while the doctor took only the most casual part in the conversation.

Oakley was wondering how he could make his escape when the doorbell rang. The doctor slipped from the parlor. When he returned he was not alone. He was preceded by a dark young man of one or two and thirty. This was Griffith Ryder, the owner of the Antioch Herald.

"My dear," said he, "Mr. Ryder, Ryder's stock hands with the two ladies and nodded carelessly to Oakley. Then, with an easy, careless complacency, he lounged down in the chair at Miss Emory's side.

Constance had turned from the strenuous Oakley to the newcomer with a sense of unmistakable relief. Her mother, too, brightened visibly. She did not entirely approve of Ryder, but he was always entertaining in a lazy, indifferent fashion of his own.

"I see, Griffith," the doctor said, "that you are going to report Kenyon. I declare it shakes my confidence in you," and he drew forward his chair. Like most Americans, the physician was something of a politician, and, as is also true of most Americans, not professionally concerned in the hunt for office. This interest fluctuated between the two extremes of party on Thanksgiving before and nonpartisan disgust after elections.

Ryder smiled faintly. "Yes, we know just how much of a rascal Kenyon is, and we know nothing at all about the other fellow except that he wants the nomination, which is a bad sign. Suppose he should turn out a greater scamp! Really it's too much of a risk." He drawled, with an affectation of contempt.

"Your politics always were a shock to your friends, but this serves to explain them," remarked the doctor, with latent combativeness. "But Ryder was not to be beguiled into argument. He turned again to Miss Emory."

GOVERNMENT REPORT POINTS TO LARGE CROPS.

REVISED FIGURES ARE GIVEN

Indications Are for Unprecedented Prosperity in the Country Districts with Prospects for Big Foreign Demand.

Washington, July 11.—Indications that American farmers this year will harvest the largest grain crops in the history of the country, are given in the government report on condition as of July 1, made public Tuesday, and nothing now seems in the way of unprecedented prosperity throughout the farming regions.

Not only is the prospect for a bountiful harvest most bright, but market quotations show that the farmer will get a fair price for his grain, while reports from Europe are that the wheat crop will be 150,000,000 bushels short of that of 1905, indicating that the export demand will be large and that America will have to fill a good share of it.

Surpass Last Year.

It was thought when last year's bountiful crops were harvested that the high water mark for production in the United States had been reached. The percentage estimates of condition of the department of agriculture this year, however, indicate that even that record will be surpassed in spite of the fact that the oats crop bids fair to fall short by 30,000,000 bushels.

The total crop of all grains this year promises to be 4,291,444,000 bushels, using the July 1 condition as a basis of calculations. This is about 8,000,000 bushels above the indication at this time last year, but 217,000,000 below the final figures. The weather in all the great grain producing states, however, since July 1 has been all that could be desired, and the prospects are that the final figures will be as much, if not more, above the July promise this year as they were last.

The fields upon which these immense crops are growing, or from which they already have been harvested, in some instances, aggregate more than 177,000,000 acres.

Corn Shows Advance.

The corn crop, of course, is in an early stage of development, and between this time and harvest last year gained an aggregate of 175,000,000 bushels, while oats gained 60,000,000 bushels. Corn is now nearly 80,000,000 bushels ahead of the July 1 indication of a year ago, although it is not as far advanced and its general condition is a little lower. It is, however, making great strides, the present hot weather in the big corn states being ideal for bringing it rapidly forward.

Oats started July with a prospect about 80,000,000 bushels below that of a year ago, but the acreage this year is a little larger and it is barely possible that the shortage may yet be reduced.

Large Wheat Crop in Sight.

It is in the wheat production, however, that the United States has the greatest cause for self-congratulation. Counting the wheat carried over from last year—only 48,000,000 bushels in farmers' hands—this country has the largest wheat crop in sight of any time in its history. The winter wheat yield runs ahead of the famous crop of 1901, and the spring wheat promise is so high as to indicate that, barring accidents, all previous records will be surpassed. There are vast reserves of moisture through the big spring wheat states of the northwest—just the conditions which produced a large crop on a smaller acreage a year ago.

It is a significant fact that the government was compelled to raise its winter wheat crop estimate of a month ago by about 12,000,000 bushels. The short straw proved very deceptive. The threshers have laid bare the deception by turning out plump, heavy grain from well-filled heads.

Quality Is Superior.

On the question of quality alone the winter wheat of the United States can go into the markets of the world unchallenged. The department is being deluged with supplemental reports from its agents showing returns from the thrasher far above the original estimates as made up previous to July 1, from which statistics the report was compiled. The final weight test is expected to show even greater wonders, the winter grain being not only high in quality but remarkably uniform through practically the whole of its area, Michigan being the only exception, and that state falling only 7,000,000 bushels behind last year's yield.

The rye area of the United States is small, and the present promise is a trifle short of last year's.

The barley crop is a large one, and shows expansion in area. It is rapidly nearing harvest with a yield of record-breaking proportions.

The average condition of the growing corn crop on July 1 was 87.5, as compared with 87.3 on July 1, 1905, 86.4 at the corresponding date in 1904, and a ten-year average of 86.4.

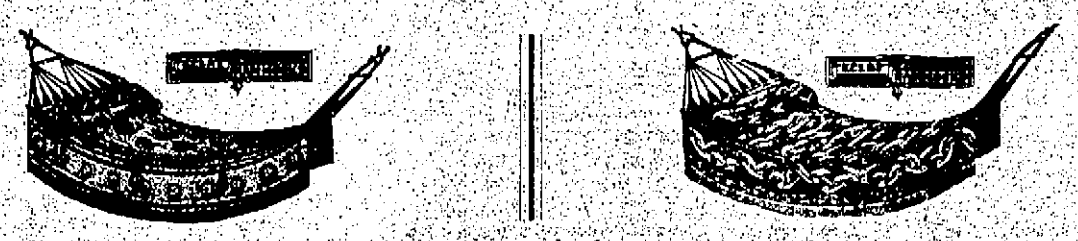

Negro Kills Sheriff.

Jacksonville, Fla., July 11.—Sheriff Charles Wilson, of Clay county, was shot and instantly killed in a train near Green Cove Springs, Tuesday, by a negro prisoner in his custody. Sheriff Wilson's deputy immediately shot and killed the negro.

Mary Southard, the Newark, O., woman who assaulted Dr. William Jackson on his return from his honeymoon, has now instituted a breach of promise suit.

DO YOU ENJOY FISHING?

Of course you do, but you enjoy it a great deal more if you have the proper sort of tackle. We have that "proper kind" no matter whether you fish at the nearby places, or at the lakes. The amateur fisherman frequently does not know the correct tackle for the various kinds of fishing. If you will tell us where you are going, we will guarantee to fix you up with an absolutely correct outfit.

CROQUET.

Sounds "old fashioned," doesn't it? During the last two years however, there has been a revival of croquet as a summer pastime. It lacks the strenuousness of tennis and doesn't require a ten-acre lot like golf, but it DOES require a skill that makes it interesting. We have sets of every description.

TO ABOLISH DEATH PENALTY

RUSSIAN UPPER HOUSE FAVORS ITS ELIMINATION.

Capital Punishment Declared to Be Relic of Barbarism, with Little Restraining Effect.

St. Petersburg, July 11.—The bill of the lower house of parliament providing for the abolition of the death penalty was taken up Tuesday in the upper house.

All the ministers were in attendance and the galleries were crowded, many members of the lower house being among those present to watch the fate of their first measure.

Up to recess time no voice had been raised in favor of capital punishment, all the speakers urging its elimination as a relic of barbarism, as having an appreciable effect in restraining crime, and as opposed to the whole theory of the Russian code, with its otherwise mild punishments.

Even former Senator Tagantoff, who was a member of the old council of ministers, held this view and urged the passage of the lower-house bill, with the sole qualification that it was inapplicable to the army and navy for which, according to the fundamental law, parliament made no right to legislate.

Former Minister of Commerce Timiriazoff favored the same compromise to which, according to figures furnished to the press, 60 members of the center party have already been converted, while 15 are opposed to any action on the measure.

After the general debate the bill probably will be referred to a committee.

Stuck Too Long.

"That rich Mr. Spooner is the most provoking thing! He asked me if I was 33." "And what did you say?" "I said, 'Mercy, no!' And he said he didn't think any woman should marry until she was 33." "Gracious! What did you do then?" "I called after him that I was 33 my next birthday, but he didn't seem to hear me."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Present Day Lovers Cowardly.

The young man of to-day seldom dares to ask a girl to marry him, says a Spinster in M. A. P. He hangs about her and helps to spoil other chances, but he is afraid to open his lips. When his head is bald and his heart blue, he marries a girl of the next generation, while his own proper mate becomes either an adventuress spinster or a gentle-maiden lady.

"MONEY WILL MAKE THE POT BOIL THOUGH THE DEVIL POUR WATER ON THE FIRE."

And Money—invested in Publicity—will make the store prosper, though assailed on all sides by "hoodoos," "bad luck," or murderous competition!

That "Money is POWER" has been conceded since the first coin came from the first mint.

But it has remained for the present generation to learn how to most effectually harness power, and make it do the world's work—how, by putting money to work, to make it a useful and a tractable power.

Changed into Newspaper Publicity, money reaches, perhaps, its highest effectiveness.

Newspaper advertising will send store-crowds where they were never before seen--will overcome the "bad location" hoodoo--will do away with "dull days" and "slow stocks"--will batter down, finally, every obstacle to complete store-success--and increasing store growth and profits.

If your Advertising Campaign is big enough, persistent enough, intelligent enough--if it embodies a "Selling-Plan" for everything you have to sell--your business will prosper, no matter how many of your friends or enemies try to pour water on your fire!
